Dear all,

We are pleased to announce our next international meeting in Athens on DIE. Previously, we have discussed theoretical issues and principles of DIE surgery alongside prevention and management of complications. This time we will emphasise teaching the basic steps of recognizing the disease in its initial expression and eradicating it before it progresses to its more complex and dangerous forms. All speakers are renowned experts in their fields and the meeting will also devote time to live procedures from some of the finest surgeons in endometriosis surgery. Also, time will be dedicated to considering the relationship between endometriosis and cancer, as well as its effects on fertility. The meeting will culminate in a video session devoted the presentation and discussion of interesting cases and techniques. We look forward to seeing you all at this exciting and didactic three day conference that has become a cornerstone of continuing education in endometriosis.
